

4. Is this similar to For-Sale-By-Owner type listings and can agents play a role?

There are some major differences between the for-sale-by-owner approach and FindBuyers.com.

Firstly, listings on FindBuyers.com are completely free of charge – there are no fees to sellers or buyer.

The other major difference is that FindBuyers.com does not exclude agents, it simply offers a tool that can benefit anyone trying to find properties to buy. It is up to the individual buyer or sell whether they wish to use an agent or not! Agents can provide a very valuable service – doing legwork, helping with the legal and financial details, negotiations, etc. - and we think that using FindBuyers.com will give them a big edge in serving their clients.

In fact, we will be happy to refer you to an agent, upon your request, who knows our site as well the geographical area of interest. If you are an agent, please see our agents section .
